All Radical Leaders to Be Deported

Fifty, Including Two Women, Held Here,
Thirty in Philadelphia, Thirty-six in Newark

Aimed at Plot for Revolution in U. S.

I. W. W. in Campaign to Organize German Workers Here, Police Find

The Federal government's long-predicted round-up of radical aliens began last night. In cities east of the Mississippi, Department of Justice agents launched raids on "red" headquarters, gathering in hundreds of men and women, presumably for deportation.

One hundred and forty-two men and eight women were arrested here at the Russell Hotel, 133 East Fifth Street. Of these, forty-eight men and two women were later locked up in Police Headquarters charged with being "alien" criminal anarchists.

Quantities of pamphlets and placards and several bags of letters ready for mailing were confiscated. The women prisoners said they were Ethel Bernstein and Dora Lipkin, alias Perkins.

The raids are said to have been aimed at a plot for a red revolution, which had been hatching for weeks.
Department of Justice men were convinced that the workers of the I. W. W. and American Communist Party, and other radical groups, were planning aggregates nearly 1,000.

Special significance is attached to the fact that these raids were on the eve of the second anniversary of the foundation of the Soviet Republic in Russia.

Radicals Spread Propaganda

Radicals here are known to have been spreading propaganda for weeks past, calling upon the workers of the nation to declare a general strike today.

According to agents who took part in the invasion of the People's House, last night's expedition was inspired directly by Immigration Commissioner Anthony A. Campanelli, who armed the raiders with fifty deportation warrants, calling upon the workers to rise and declare a general strike today, in honor of the "Red" Republic of Russia.

Their activities were divulged to the Department of Justice by an operative agent, who had been working in the I. W. W. and kindred organizations here.

Among those locked up at Headquarters were Hyman Lackowsky, said by the police to have been sentenced to twenty years in jail for violation of the espionage act and now out on appeal; Alexander Seernoff, said to have been arrested in Waterbury, Conn., and sent out on bail; Marcus Grodofsky, Boris and Harry Schatz, Naum Stepanik, Arthur Kietzels, alias Feinstein, and Peter Planci. Many of those arrested have records, the police say.

Headquarters' Cells Overflow

All of the prisoners could not be held in Headquarters. There are only twenty-three cells there, and many were taken to nearby stations to sleep.

Although this is the third time their building has been invaded by the police in the last three months the men and women in the Russian People's House last night showed no signs of becoming accustomed to raids. Several fighting started when the police and agents entered the place, and numerous radicals sustained bruises and scalp wounds when they were finally bundled into the four motor wagons that waited before the door.

The raiders proceeded methodically through the building, searching all four on the first two floors of the structure, which is a three-story building, and after those found there had been started downstairs to the patrol bureau, proceeding to the third floor, where the chief clerk's office was in session. These were broken up and searched, and students informed that they were under arrest.

Literature Is Taken Also

Besides the prisoners, the expedition carried off several hundredweight of pamphlets, letters and placards in English and Russian, which will be examined later.

At the entrance of the police several men were loitering in the lobby rooms attempted to leave the building by way of the windows. The police declare, however, that none escaped.

The prisoners were taken to the office of Chief of the Secret Service, William J. Flynn on the fourteenth floor of the Park Row Building and there questioned. It took only a short time to sort out the sheep from the goats, and a hundred of the prisoners were soon free, although not until each of them had been fingerprinted and photographed.

The fifty detained were packed into army motor trucks and rushed to Police Headquarters, where they were locked up for the night. It is understood that these are the persons for

Palmer Asks 6 Months More Of Food and Fuel Control

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Extension of the Lever food and fuel control law for six months after the proclamation of peace is necessary to protect the country from high prices, Attorney General Palmer to-day told the House Agriculture Committee.

"Unnatural economic conditions," the Attorney General said, "would be taken advantage of by unscrupulous people," to make prices high unless the powers granted under the act are continued in force. These conditions, he said, prevailed throughout the world.

The conditions in the country immediately following peace make it even more necessary that the law be continued than the conditions that led to the enactment of the original act," said the Attorney General.

"The act originally had for its purpose the increase of production, and to protect the people from war-time conditions that result in very high prices. After armistice prices have very largely increased, and unless government control is continued over some commodities the after-war conditions may result in higher prices than during the war itself."

Suggestions by Committee That Extension of All Sections of the Law Was Unnecessary

Extension of all sections of the law was unnecessary were answered by the Attorney General, urging blanket extension, for he said unexpected "situations might arise" and that the mere existence of the law would be of wholesome influence.

"The main purpose of the extension would be to stop profiteering," declared the Attorney General.

Maine Passes Measure Against Profiteers

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 7.—The act drafted by Attorney General Guy H.
Sturgis to prevent profiteering in the theater of life was passed in an amended form in both branches of the Legislature to-day. As amended, it applies to "dealers, traders, manufacturers and warehouse men."

Lady Astor Proud Of U. S. Birthright

Heckler Who Raises Question at Campaign Meeting Gets Snappy Reply

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 7. (By The Associated Press.)—The heckler for one minute I am ashamed of my Virginia birthright," snapped Lady Astor yesterday afternoon at a woman's meeting when she was asked why she was not spending her energies in the American where there were as many social evils as here.

"What do you want me to do? Sit at home and hold my hands?" Lady Astor went on. "I married in England, my interests for ten years have been in Plymouth, every drop of blood in my veins is Anglo-Saxon, and I am proud of my American birthright."

Lady Astor's eyes flashed and she gestured for a moment. Resuming her speech, she declared women would be granted an extension of time for arguments on the injunction of the League of Nations.

"Men tell you they had good times at the front," Lady Astor asserted, "but I do not believe a mother with a son who has been in a good time."

"Men have physical courage," she added, "but they often lack moral courage, and that's the kind of courage most needed to-day."

Answering another bombardment of questions, Lady Astor said:

"There are two sections of the Labor party—one embraces tried and true trade unions, the other young intellectuals. I know the latter are not Bolshevik cranks. Half of them never fought in the war, and most of them have never been workingmen. They are heart and soul of the Independent Labor party."

Two Doctors End Daily Visits to Mr. Wilson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—President Wilson's condition has improved so much that the daily visits of Drs. Stitt and Ruffin, consultants with Dr. Carv T. Grayson, the President's personal physician, are no longer necessary. Dr.
Grayson is the only daily medical adviser of the President, it was said today at the White House.

To-morrow, however, Dr. Francis X.
Bertram, Philadelphia neurologist, and Dr. Hugh H. Young, a Baltimore specialist, who have been examining the President weekly, again will visit the White House to examine the patient.

Police Prevent Boxing Bouts in Aid of Red Cross

Police Inspector Dominick Henry prevented the boxing bouts in aid of the Red Cross membership drive which were scheduled to take place in the armory of the 1st Field Artillery, N. Y. G., last night. The bouts were held to be contrary to law, and in issuing the order in effect, because Department of Justice reports show they were suffering many defections, and if they continued in a short time the strike would be broken and the workingmen would have little left on which to live.

On the side of the operators a new agreement possibly would mean the lifting of the maximum prices for meat and many arrests have been made.
An ultimatum to Italy is expected.

Advices from Agram, Jugo-Slavia, report that meetings are being held there in protest against a possible war with Italy. The general tenor of the speeches and the resolutions adopted is that if Serbia has any differences with Italy she should fight them out without involving either Croatia or Slavonia.

Jugo-Slavs Mobilizing; War With Italy Opposed

VIENNA, Nov. 7. (By The Associated Press.)—Special dispatches received by Vienna papers state that five additional battalions have been called to the colors on the pretext of military training.

A military dictatorship has been established in the country and many arrests have been made.
An ultimatum to Italy is expected.

Inquisitors to Take Up Calling Off of Gaming and Vice Raids in 1918

New York's white light district is about to be subjected to a thorough combing for evidence of a direct link that is believed to connect the underworld and the Police Department.

Process servers for the extraordinary grand jury now investigating the machinery of the Hyman administration are expected to set out early to-day in search of witnesses who can answer significant questions concerning a gambling ring, a vice clique and their relations with the Police Department.

It was said last night that many men and women in the city known to have made what Broadway calls "a smart living" during the last five years would be called before the inquisitorial body and asked to whom in the Police Department they reported. The questions are expected to be supported with numerous reminders that will jog poor memories, most of which have been taken from the department's "Blue Book," as kept by James E. Smith, Assistant District Attorney.

Full Evidence Expected To-day

Reports of these renewed activities of the grand jury were heard in the Criminal Courts Building yesterday immediately after a long conference between Mr. Smith and Raymond C.
Almair, former chief of the grand jury, in the conference would disclose the nature of the program outlined by them, but the prosecutor admitted he expected to "know everything he had been attempting to learn for a long time" before to-day is over.

In addition to members of the underworld who are to be called as witnesses before the grand jury, it is said at least three men who are called upon to defy other influences and tell the truth about the Police Department will be questioned by the grand jury.
Two of these, it was said, are "Honest Dan" Costigan, formerly head of the city's vice squad, who was reduced and transferred "for the good of the service" and John W. Goff, Jr., formerly Deputy Police Commissioner, who supported Costigan in his veiled protests when he was declared to have been hampered in his activities for reform by the Hyman administration. The name of the third witness was not mentioned.

Calling Off Raids a Question

One of the questions the grand jury want answered at once, is why Assistant District Attorney Smith was called off when he was conducting raids on gambling houses and other resorts of the underworld last year. At that time Mayor Hyman wrote a letter to District Attorney Swann in which the raids were unfavorably commented upon.

Although Mr. Smith would not discuss that phase of the investigation yesterday, he was said to have told members of the jury that he made the raids himself because the police were not giving the assistance he had a right to expect. Why he suddenly decided to make them he would not say. District Attorney Swann said he was ready to give the grand jury any information that might be asked of him. He refused to discuss the Hyman letter, which probably will be called for on Monday.

"Blue Book" Fascinates Swann

Mr. Swann admitted he had read the "Blue Book," and that he had found it the most "fascinating reading I can imagine." He said it was direct and to the point, including names, dates and places, wherever charges of any sort were made.

As an illustration of the sort of information he had acquired by reading this book, this paragraph was quoted:
"On October 25 Inspector — went to Forty-second Street and — Avenue, met a man known as — told him a few minutes, held out his hand and was given $—."

The blanks were introduced only in the recital of facts by the reader of the "Blue Book." There is none in the book, however, of deals only in information of the most specific variety.

Silk Robberies Investigated

Investigation by the grand jury took a new turn during the day when Alfred Wetmore, a private detective associated with an organization that watched the property of large business houses, was called before the inquisitors. The jurors were attempting to learn more about the $1,000,000 silk robberies of the last year, it was said, and the reason why it was necessary for business houses to seek out and protect themselves against burglars.

A representative of the Mutual Dry Goods Protection Association, either was called or will be called before the jury Monday morning. The questioning of the witness also is expected to deal with silk robberies.

Reservation Under Debate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Reservation No. 1, known as the Preamble in the Foreign Relations Committee's program of reservations, and which was adopted to-day by the Senate, follows:

"The reservations and understandings adopted by the Senate are to be made a part and condition of the resolution of ratification, which ratification is not to take effect or bind the United States until the said reservations and understandings adopted by the Senate have been accepted by an exchange of notes as a part and condition of said resolution of ratification by at least three of the four principal Allied and associated powers, to wit: Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan."

Reservation No. 2, which was under debate when the Senate adjourned, follows:

"The United States understands and construes Article I that in case of notice of withdrawal from the league of nations as provided in said article the United States shall be the sole judge as to whether all its international obligations and all its obligations under the said covenant have been fulfilled, and notice of withdrawal by the United States may be given by a concurrent resolution of the Congress of the United States."

Illinois and Bay State Gov- ernors Are Proposed as Heads of the Republican National Ticket in 1920

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 7.—In a keynote speech here to-night launching the candidacy of Governor Frank Lowden of Illinois for the Presidency of the United States, Representative William A. Rodenburg, of East St.
Louis, presented to the Illinois Republican Editorial Association the name of Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts as a running mate for Low-den. The mention of Governor Coolidge's name brought a storm of applau-

Significance was attached to the link- ing of the two names because of the fact that Representative Rodenburg has been picked to make the Lowden nominating speech on the floor of the national convention.

Governor Lowden was given an ovation when referred to by Representative Rodenburg as "the nation's next choice."

Proceeding the Rodenburg address, Governor Lowden briefly responded to the cheering. He thanked the editors for support during the crucial days of the war and declared the responsibility of the present hour was on the shoulders of the people. He said he would not discuss the details of the Republican party, but did not discuss issues.

Chairman Hays Speaks

Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, confined his remarks to national affairs. He said in part:

"What we need in this country is not 'less politics,' but more attention to politics. Politics is the science of government and what we need is more attention to the science of government."
"Our difficulties are largely economic.
The industrial problems in this country, which at the moment seem to be overwhelming, can be, and I have implicit faith will be, solved in one way — by finding exact justice and enforce-ing it."

"It is simply a matter of Roosevelt's 'square deal'—exact justice for labor, exact justice for capital, and exact justice for the public, the third side of the triangle, which must not be lost sight of. To that end we must develop a reasonable method for honest and efficient labor to acquire an interest in the business to which labor is expected to give its best efforts. Pending this development the equilibrium between production and wages must be established and there must be justice for all—exact justice."

Efficient Legislation Promised

"There shall be legislation passed as rapidly as possible, and when the complete Republican contract necessary for the full functioning of the government shall have been brought about, there shall be legislation and execution on all of these things I have mentioned, all moving in the direction of efficiency and economy for the establishment of business in the country on a sound, safe and sane basis; the solution of the railroad problem; legislation for a better relationship between labor and capital, with justice for both; a law providing for a budget system for the country's own business."

"There shall be legislation for the development of trade, the improvement of our diplomatic service, the solution of our shipping problem that we may have a merchant marine adequate to meet the development of world trade, the development of our position on international relations, and still other innumerable problems, all incident to the readjustment which is imminent."

"Let not our great accomplishments in war be marred by our inability to order our own affairs. More agitation and more action are not progress."

'Preamble' Is Adopted by Upper House

Hitchcock Plans to Force Deadlock on Resolution of Ratification; Move Approved by Mr. Wilson

President Ready For Compromise

Bill to Provide Joint Resolution to Withdraw From League Pending

By Carter Field

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—President Wilson is now willing to go a long way in accepting compromise reservations to the peace treaty. He indicated this to Administration Leader Hitchcock in a half-hour conference to-day.

Within two hours, however, the Senate, voting 48 to 40, indicated that the Lodge slate of reservations would go through practically unchanged, and adopted the "Preamble," now known as Reservation No. 1. This requires the assent by diplomatic notes of three of the four principal Allied powers to the Senate's reservations. Senator Hitchcock at once declared that this could not be accepted by the Administration, and that any ratification resolution containing it would be voted down by the Democrats.

Other developments of the day regarding the treaty were:

1. Senator Hitchcock laid his program before the President, who indorsed it. This program provides for voting down the Lodge resolution of ratification containing strong reservations, and proposing a straight-out ratification resolution with no reservations, which he conceded probably would be defeated, and then from that deadlock working out a compromise.

2. The President convinced Mr.
Hitchcock that he would be willing to accept the risk of the Lodge providing they did not "destroy the terms of the treaty."

3. This willingness as to compromise on the part of the President threw the "irreconcilables" into a panic of fear lest the President yield to the Lodge resolution, and thus the Lodge reservation and the preamble. They are very much divided as to the best course to pursue and are trying to get together.

4. Senator La Follette took the situation so seriously that he and some of his followers have been telling Republican Leader Lodge that no more reservations could be voted on until they made up their minds about it. He favors killing the reservation so as to force the mainline of the road Republicans to vote against ratification on the final roll call.

5. Senators Borah, Mores and others of the "irreconcilables" are not willing to accept the risk of the Lodge planning down the reservations would give the "wild reservationists" an excuse to vote for the treaty without reservations. They are convinced that Senator Hitchcock will defeat the Lodge ratification resolution, anyhow, in his program as O.
K. at the White House, and they think they can prevent any resolution ever taking place.

6. By a vote of 48 to 40 the Senate refused to soften the terms of the preamble and then by the same vote adopted it.

7. Senator Hitchcock at once announced that this "nullified" the treaty and would compel the Democrats to vote against it, while the resolution containing it.

8. An amendment to the next resolution that providing for the withdrawal by the United States from the league on two years' notice was pending when the Senate recessed. This amendment provides that, instead of Congress alone giving notice of with-
league, a concurrent resolution not requiring the President's signature, such notice must be given by joint resolution, which would require his signature. The amendment has broken the Republican line-up. Senator Nelson speaking for it. The vote is expected to-morrow, and the result is in doubt.

The first test on reservations came in the Senate shortly after Mr. Hitchcock's return from the White House. By a vote of 48 to 40 the Senate prevented weakening amendments to the preamble.
Then, by the same vote, the preamble was adopted.

Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, was the only Republican to vote to soften the preamble and the only Republican to vote against it, while of the Democrats, Senators Reed, Gore and Walsh, of Massachusetts, voted for

Thirty Counties Still To Be Heard From, and They Are Expected to Add to Figures

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 7.—Unofficial returns from ninety of the 120 counties in Tuesday's election showed a majority of 4,500 for the statewide prohibition amendment. The amendment to-day that the amendment had won with several thousand votes to spare.

Seventy counties gave the amendment a majority of 38,220. Twenty counties, including Louisville, showed an adverse majority of 33,811.

The remaining counties, Anti-Saloon League leaders asserted, would still further increase the majority for the amendment and swell the total to probably more than their original estimate of 5,000.
